

24 The Woolgatherers: Handwoven, Knit, Spun, Felted Designs

This talented mix of makers transforms fibres from plants and animals into clothing, and textiles for the home. The Woolgatherers' main purpose is to educate the public about the world of fibre. Members are knowledgeable about dying yarns, as well as various weaving and felting, spinning and knitting techniques and they guide and teach each other. Come by and chat, and perhaps be inspired to learn a new fibre skill.

25 Norah Curtis Designs

I am interested in creating garments that, at a glance, announce the individuality of the wearer. I strive to make clothes that are strikingly beautiful, but at the same time are completely functional. In this time of throwaway fashion, I am interested in craftsmanship and timelessness. I try to produce garments that are unique and make a statement yet are comfortable and long-lasting.

26 Anat Basanta Jewellery

I am fond of using familiar ornamented "retro" patterns, almost kitschy wallpaper like designs, which typically appear in fabrics, ribbons and laces. I use these textured patterns alongside woven silver to capture the softness, fluidity, and airy nature of knitted textiles. Synthesizing metal work techniques with those typically used in textiles. I blur the boundaries between the two mediums. I strive to reach the meeting point of beauty and intrigue.

26 Custom Wooden Cooking Products

As a custom woodworker I create items to match anyone's décor or desires. All my bowls are turned individually, and our cutting board patterns are one of a kind made from end grain Lamination. Spoons and salad servers come in many shapes and exotic woods. The woods that I use get their various hues from nature, no dyes are used. I also make a line of fly-fishing nets and accessories.

28 Unique Colourful Leather Accessories

Sunburst Crafts in Salmon Arm, B.C., has been producing hand tooled leather goods for over 30 years, with a focus on leather book covers for journals and art books. Their work is a fine balance of quality workmanship and unique design. Function has not restricted their quest for imagery, either subtle or striking; experimentation being the ongoing theme.

29 Pewter Pendants and Bracelets

My process begins with an idea or word that I try to sum up with a clear and simple design. Each design represents something I believe is worth promoting. We have specialized in making pewter pendants. Over years of developing and improving, we have come up with what we feel is the perfect necklace. We offer a distinctive, much-loved signature pendant with a simple brushed finish, waxed cotton cord and patented adjustable slip grips. Each one has developed differently. Each one has a story.

30 Michaud Toys

Rooted in the tradition of fine woodworking, the Michaud Family continue the legacy of four generations of fine craftsmanship dedicating our lives to continuous creativity. Through the process, our Family has produced strong lines of wooden toys, clocks and cutting boards. Currently we focus our attention on a unique line of traditional wooden board games. Using only the best available exotic and domestic hardwoods, we hope these heirloom pieces will bring much joy and laughter to all.

31 Fresh creamy, homemade fudge

Our gourmet homemade fudge is made fresh with certified organic cream and butter including farm grown nuts and fruit. We are in touch with nature, combining natural ingredients to bring you the ultimate taste sensation our fudge has become famous for. Our fresh fudge recipes are constantly expanded by Chef Massimo whose foremost endeavor it is to create more happy smiles, looks of surprise and satisfaction and ...to increase quality and variety.

32 Blue Lantern Studio - collage art

In all of my work, I'm concerned with the interconnection between the natural world and the human world. What would a world without people look like? How does our perception of ourselves shape how we relate to other species? In my collages, I play with these questions, pairing images of animals and people from history and letting them interact. I don't pretend to have answers to the questions; rather I like to see what happens when I place the different elements together.

32 Dish Fine Handmade Pottery

The intent of Julie's work is to inspire you; whether you are using it for food, flowers or display, her hope is that it will encourage you to celebrate the beauty of functional art in your home each day. Each of her pieces are functional, but can also be enjoyed as piece of art in its own right. Julie creates delightful pottery that is as functional as it is beautiful; each piece is infused with personality and life.

33 West Coast Gnomes

I am fascinated by the organic forms of nature. I am a whimsical person so some of my work depicts that side of my personality. While rooted in the natural world, I hope my work is an intermingling of both fantasy and reality. By isolating tree stumps, toadstools and ocean flora, and interpreting their delicacy into the clay medium, I hope to convey their ephemeral beauty to the viewer.
